

DRESS CODE (Updated for Fall 2026)

PCS desires to promote modesty, safety, and an intentional focus on character and intellectual development.

In a group setting, the community interest regarding these matters sometimes takes precedence over personal preferences. We have therefore established a dress code in order to help reflect our community's perspective in these realms, without violating individual integrity. Our ultimate goal is to bring glory to God in all that we do.

Students are to comply with the dress code while attending school and when participating at any school functions. Dress standards for special events (e.g. graduation, spirit days, ministry days, field trips, fundraisers, conferences, etc.) will be published separately. The dress standards are subject to the interpretation of the administration and are subject to modification.

Dress Code Violations

Parents are responsible for the dress and appearance of their children. PCS Faculty or Staff will talk privately with the student regarding a first-time dress code violation and will send an email to parents if needed. A female faculty or staff member will address girls if the violation involves modesty. Subsequent offenses will involve the student being sent to the office. A parent will be contacted to bring the appropriate clothing. The student will not be allowed back into the classroom or activity until the offense is corrected. This may result in an unexcused absence. Multiple violations or repeated violation of the same rule is considered rebellion and may be grounds for expulsion.
